Report of IQAC Conducted Activities for the Academic Session 2022-23

Things improved a lot in the pandemic challenges but were not back to normal. Under such circumstances, things were to be planned with new approaches and perspectives. The period of the Pandemic brought a significant change in teaching-learning methods.

Looking at the need for an hour, the IQAC of the institute organized a national-level seminar in collaboration with the departments of Sociology and the department of Pali-Prakrit on 26 July 2022, guiding the teaching fraternity to enhance their skill with modern teaching tools via online sessions. The resource persons were Dr. Avinash Talmale and Dr. Ashish Shende.

Going ahead on the same line, the IQAC organized One Day NAAC Sponsored Conference, New Teaching Methods in Higher Education: Introducing Technology was organized on 01 October 2022, in Hybrid Mode in which different sessions were devoted to Modern Teaching Methods. Dr. Devendra Kawdey attended the conference as a NAAC representative and delivered a keynote address. Dr. Subhashree Mukherjee and Prof. Dilip Barad, M. K. Bhavnagar University, Gujarat were the resource persons for offline and online sessions respectively.

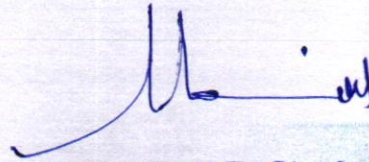

To get associate with society, an extended social activity was carried out under the banner of IQAC in which 26 students of the Institute, representing all classes, assisted the Maharashtra Federation of organize White Cane Day on 16 October 2022.

Aiming towards the all-round development of students, IQAC organized a workshop on Competitive Examination in collaboration with the concerned committee, a self-defense training camp for girl students, and a disaster management camp for all students in collaboration March 2023, training for girl students from 25 March to 30 March, and disaster management training on 31 March 2023.

In this session, IQAC signed a memorandum of understanding with other two Institutes, namely, Bhiwapur Mahavidyalaya, Bhiwapur, and Jeevan Vikas Mahavidyalaya, Deogram. These institutes came together to organize a one-day seminar for students and faculty on Intellectual Property Rights, on 25 April 2023.

Along with the above activities, IQAC also took an active part in the registration of the institute on NIRF for the second consecutive year and first-time registration in the International Organization for Standardization. The institute also participated in the Administrative and Academic Audit of Rashtrasant Tukadoji Maharaj Nagpur University, Nagpur. The Institute also registered on Environmental Management Systems under International Organization for Standardization

Report of IQAC 2023-24

The new academic session activities commence with the observance of yoga day on June 21 announcing the importance of physical fitness.

In its first meeting of the session IQAC had taken up three particular tasks along with its regular responsibilities. These are to create awareness regarding environment, encouragement of research activities, and introducing students of Indian Knowledge System.

As we have been doing since the last three years, an Induction Meeting was held in which the students of B.A. Part I were given information regarding NCC, NSS, Library, and the certificate courses to be conducted in the Institute for the session.

A guest lecture by the authorities of 'Metro' was organised. The students were given information on the different routes of Metro Train and how they can have a tireless and enjoyable transport to the Institute. This was to encourage students to take Metro as the institute has a location advantage of having two Metro stations at walk-able distance. Along with this, they would be contributing to the preservation of environment, and reduction in traffic congestion and so in pollution.

One of our mottos is to create an individual who would be a responsible citizen. For this special events were initiated by the Institute as per the guidelines issued by the Government. IQAC extensively participated along with NSS of the Institute in creating a sense of patriotism through 'Mazi Mati Maza Desh', (My Soil My Country).

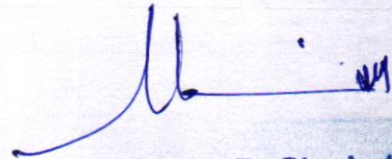

IQAC was also an integral part of election awareness drive undertaken by NSS to encourage young voters to vote and understand the importance of strong democratic set up.

As a part of its extension activity, IQAC is associated with 'Blind Federation of Maharashtra'. The students of our institute have been a part of observance of white cane day organised every year on 15th October. This annual activity continued with 50 students enthusiastically taking part in it.

Along with this regular annual activity, elections of 'Blind Federation' which are conducted every four years were held this year. The faculty of the Institute in association with the Alumni Association of the Institute, conducted the elections.

Indian Knowledge System (IKS) is gaining importance as per the new education policy adopted by government. Students were introduced to it through a guest lecture organised on it by the IQAC. An informative lecture on Indian Calendar System was held on 12 April 2024.

IQAC collaborated with Competitive Examination Committee to organise a lecture on 'How to prepare for competitive examination?'
